Miscellaneous expenses	1,101 29
		$ 34,256 09
Showing a net decrease of expenditure in 1883 of		$ 24,228 93

The figures indicate that 1883 has not been a year of great progress; but in spite of diminished resources the schools have fairly held their own. The most gratifying symptom is the disposition of the counties to increase their local taxation in order to meet the deficiency from state taxes. The steady increase of receipts from local sources would be still more gratifying, if it could be said that all the counties were animated by the same spirit. A reference to table "C" will show, however, that in some counties the amount raised by county taxation bears but a small proportion to the amount received from the state, while in others it is largely in excess. Compare, for example, Allegany with Prince George. They receive nearly equal amounts from the state treasury—Allegany, $18,694.81; Prince George, $19,594.87—but Allegany collects a county school tax of $35,000 and Prince George a county school tax of $11,641.14. But Prince George raises a far greater proportion of money by local taxation than some other counties. Calvert, for instance, receives from the state $10,272.73, and raises by county taxation $1,473.20. There is a similar inequality among the counties when we compare the county school tax with the assessed valuation of property, the rate varying from twenty-five cents on the hundred dollars down to seven cents.

The statistics of the colleges and academies will be found in tables "I" and "K."

The visitors and governors of Washington College report: "Thirty-five students in attendance, of whom five were graduated with satisfaction to the faculty. The county scholarships were all filled by students who received tuition, board, books and stationery free of charge; and in addition to these, five indigent scholars received tuition free of charge. During the current year extensive repairs and improvements to all the college buildings were made, and the college is now provided not only with an efficient and energetic faculty, but with well equipped buildings and all necessary appliances for the instruction of students in all the branches of a college course."

St. John's College is hopeful of ultimate success under the late re-organization. The new chemical laboratory is a step in the right direction.

The Agricultural College has also been re-organized, and has endeavored not unsuccessfully to struggle against difficulties caused by the withdrawal of the state appropriation. "The number of students is about double that of last year, and the prospect of increased numbers is well assured for the future. The college buildings have been thoroughly repaired and re-furnished, and all surroundings much improved."

The President of the Western Maryland College reports the past year to have been "a highly prosperous one, except for the disappointment caused by Governor Hamilton's declining to sign the bill passed by the legislature for the free tuition of the state scholars. A new hall was erected for the accommodation of male boarding students, at a cost of nearly $3,000, and nearly paid for by the voluntary contributions of friends of the college."

The State Normal School closed the year with two hundred and fifty-three students on roll, of whom forty-two were graduated. Forty of these graduates are now teaching in the public schools of the state.

The Colored Normal School reports one hundred and eighty pupils, with an average attendance of one hundred and twenty, under the instruction of five teachers. The library contains one thousand five hundred well selected volumes, and is a great help to the right training of the students. The school is doing good work in the education of the colored people.

The teachers' institutes of the year were all well attended. They were held in the counties of Allegany, Caroline, Carroll, Dorchester, Harford, Kent, Montgomery and Talbot. Baltimore county, Cecil, and Howard have county teachers' associations, which meet quarterly, and keep alive the professional spirit of the teachers.

The schools of art and design of the Maryland Institute have had another year of remarkable success. All the resources of the Institute were taxed to the utmost to provide accommodations for the students who applied for admission. At the close of the session the principal, Prof. Hugh Newell, resigned, in order to accept a similar position in the Johns Hopkins University. Prof. Fuchs, of the Art Normal School of Boston, was chosen to fill the vacancy, and it is not doubted that under his superintendence the schools will carry on to still greater completeness the work which has been so well begun.

The Board would ask attention to several matters in their last report, which need not here be repeated, and in the words of that report they would "congratulate the people of Maryland on another year of successful administration of the public schools, and they hope that their permanent prosperity is sufficiently guaranteed by the firm hold which they have taken of popular favor."

Allegany County.

The tabular statement shows about everything for the year. Since, however, it is the intention of the examiner to retire from office the ensuing January, it may not be out of place to call attention to some facts concerning the growth and development of the public school system in Allegany county during his period of service. He was elected to the position January 1, 1878, and since that time has received and disbursed $363,585.50. Of that amount the sum of $57,655.36 has been expended for permanent improvements, school-houses and school furniture, and the balance, $305,730 22, for teachers' salaries and general current expenses.

For the year 1877 there were 115 teachers and 7,261 pupils on roll in the county. For 1883 there are 143 teachers and 8,656 pupils on roll.

Twenty-nine new school-houses have been built, including the large and commodous building on Union street, in the city of Cumberland, and a number of other large houses in the mining region.

Of the amount expended for permanent improvements the sum of $19,000 has been expended in the city of Cumberland, and the balance, $38,655 36, elsewhere in the county.

Our schools are kept open nine months of the year, and we think it can be shown that our teachers are as well paid as elsewhere in the state.

The debt of the board has been gradually reduced, except for the year just ended. The board calculated to reduce the debt at least $1,000 during the year, but the falling off in the March distribution of state school tax, $1,795 23, ran the board behind and increased the standing debt $880 01. So the total indebtedness of the board is $7,410 50.

This is comparatively a small matter, and with the few permanent improvements to be made in the future can be readily liquidated.

Our schools, we think, are continually improving, though we yet want many things necessary to their fullest usefulness. Some of the school-houses are very unsuitable, and this is especially the case with the colored schools, while our means at present are not adequate to supplying at once this deficiency. We lost this year one school-house by fire, and we sold an old school-house, which had ceased to be convenient to us.

We have paid ourselves out of debt at last, and have been for some time paying the expenses of the schools regularly.

By degrees we shall secure good school-houses, with good furniture, globes, maps and suitable libraries for teachers and children, and a continual increase in the number of teachers of the best qualifications; but these improvements can only come with time, and we cannot much hurry the progress of thought which develops them.

The item of charge under the head of "Building School-houses," is for balance on school-houses built heretofore, and a payment on purchase of house for our schools in Annapolis. We have not built any schools this year.

Carroll County.

Were we to indulge in extended remarks, as heretofore, we would have to reiterate and recall to remembrance what we have repeatedly more enlarged upon on former occasions in reference to salutary modifications in our excellent school law —such as that unequivocal provision be made for the acquisition, more directly and certainly, independently of other interests, of sufficient funds in the hands of school commissioners, holding them, and not other officials, responsible for their proper and economical application—that the functions of school-trustee boards be modified, reducing the number of members thereof to one, and holding him responsible in some way, if necessary, by allowing adequate payment for such service as he shall be required to perform; and that either the book-fees or the sale of books, &c., to pupils be abolished, so that there shall be, at the same time, only one method of distributing such supplies to the schools; or—which would, perhaps, be still better in regard to text-books, &c.—to make them entirely free, like the schools, strictly holding teachers and all concerned responsible for the proper care and use of text-books, &c.

A few, and only a few, changes in this direction in the school law, would soon remedy the most of these defects, which are now apparent to all; but we have no inclination again to repeat arguments which, as on former occasions, legislators would probably not stop to consider.

Having no funds on hand for building purposes, no school-houses have been built by the school board in Carroll county this year. The sum given in the table of disbursements for "building school-houses" is made up of bills and balances due chiefly for the building at No. 11, in the fifth election district, which was previously reported. For school No. 6, in the ninth election district, however, parties acting unofficially have erected of brick a most excellent and commodious school-house, for the use of which the school board agrees to pay adequate rent until the purchase of the property can be made.

Debt.—On several occasions, to enable the school treasurer to pay the teachers when the salaries became due, as is the custom in this county, it became necessary for the school commissioners to augment their available funds by having their notes discounted in bank. A result of this is that one of these notes yet remains unpaid, and consequently we have to report the board to be temporarily in debt to the extent of $1,500.

Cecil County.

In reporting the condition of the schools of this county we can add but little to what is embodied in the report itself. An institute was held during the year, which was well attended, and was of great interest and profit to the teachers. The association hitherto existing of the teachers in the sixth, seventh and eighth districts is still kept up, and is prosperous. We think the schools of the county have been efficiently conducted during the past year.

Charles County.

It is observable from the report that our expenditures for building, repairing and furnishing school-houses are in excess of our usual disbursements for such purposes, and we have hopes that we may soon be able to congratulate our county upon having good, comfortable and suitable houses and furniture for school purposes.

There are still a few very primitive school structures with furniture to correspond in the county; but should we be able to accomplish as much in the next two years towards superseding these old houses and furniture with new buildings and modern appliances our county will be fairly well appointed for public school education.

The falling off in the March distribution of the public school tax was a serious blow to us, and fell so suddenly and unexpectedly that our school board was compelled to publish immediately an order closing the schools for one-fifth of the quarter then in progress. Our estimates also for repairs and furniture were greatly embarrassed. This deficiency only affected the white school tax; the colored school tax remaining the same, and in fact is always uniform. The benefits of a uniform distribution are too apparent to instance, and on the occasion referred to were much more so by contrast. If further legislation is needed to regulate this matter, such legislation would meet with unanimously favorable sentiment in this county, and doubtless in the entire state. This matter will likely be noticed in other reports, and certainly ought to gain the attention it deserves from quarters whence the remedy may proceed. In December, 1882, a new school board was appointed for this county, and Dr. Geo. D. Mudd, Philip A. Sasscer and Wm. H. Gray, Esq., constitute that body. These are all among our best known, most estimable and public spirited citizens. On the 9th of January, 1883, your subscriber was appointed secretary, examiner, &c. After the termination of the scholastic year the school board abolished the general book depository and the system of purchasing and selling books by the county board. An arrangement has been made to sell the books at a fixed price agreed upon by the booksellers and the school board, and the business thrown open to the county merchants, the booksellers paying the merchants a percentage for handling.

A number of school-houses have been thoroughly repaired and enlarged during the year, and the expenditure set down under the general head of repairs. All the new houses are in the places of old ones no longer fit for use.

Frederick County.

In addition to the facts brought out in the following tabulated statements we desire to call the attention of the State Board of Education to the irregular and uncertain distribution of the public school tax by the fiscal agents of the state at Annapolis, and to suggest that if matters do not improve in this respect, some effort ought to be made to have the law changed so as to give the State Board of Education direct control of all moneys collected by the state from the various counties for public school purposes, in order that said moneys shall be unfailingly applied to the purposes for which they are collected from the people.

As is well known to all the public school men of the state, the boards of the county school commissioners of the several counties and of the city of Baltimore, some six years ago, were compelled to institute suit by mandamus against the state comptroller, to compel him to disburse for the use of the public schools of the state over $400,000 that had been collected for this purpose, but had been by him applied to other purposes, and although the public schools of the state derived no benefit from said suit, by reason of the interference of the Legislature, yet we succeeded in obtaining the judgment of the Circuit Court of Anne Arundel county, that our claim was well founded, which judgment stands to-day as a record of the fact that the public school officers of the state have done what they could to have public school tax applied to its appropriate use. And having made this record for themselves they might perhaps have remained silent, although the Legislature of 1878 cut down the appropriation for the support of the white schools $100,000, by taking this amount, appropriated to the colored schools of the state, out of the public school tax, instead of from the general treasury, as had been the law prior to that time. But in March last, the treasurers of the several counties were amazed to find that the apportionment for the quarter ended the 15th of that month was but little more than one-half what it was for the white schools at the same time one year previous. The reason assigned by the comptroller for the heavy falling off from the preceding year was that the tax had not been collected. Accepting this explanation as true, we confidently expected this loss to be made up in the future distributions; in this, however, we have been sadly disappointed. The June distribution was made two and one-half months after the March distribution, when but $100,000 were disbursed, the usual amount. Then came the distribution made on the first day of October, more than six months had expired and not one cent of the loss referred to was made up. Can it be that during all this time none of these back taxes had been paid in? We present these matters to the state board with a view to having them thoroughly investigated, that some satisfactory explanation may be given for this heavy falling off in our receipts from this source.

The following statement will show the inequality and irregularity of the apportionment and distribution of the state school tax to this county, the comparison being made with the year ended September 20, 1882:

In 1882 we received for the white schools.....	$25,883 89
In 1882 we received for the colored schools.....	3,915 56
		$29,798 35
In 1883 we received for white schools.....	$19,807 89
In 1883 we received for colored schools.....	3,488 28
		$23,296 17
Loss.....		$ 6,502 18

In consequence of this heavy loss from the state, and a decrease of over sixteen hundred from the free school fund, and some falling off from the county, the board was forced to order the schools to remain closed until the first day of November, reduce teachers' salaries, or fasten a heavy debt upon the school board, in violation of law and true business principles. As a choice of evils, our schools were ordered closed until the first day of November.

Garrett County.

Garrett county labors under difficulties not clearly understood by many, and a simple examination of this report, as compared with other counties in the state, would place us in a very unfavorable position. With this, the tenth report since the organization of Garrett as a separate political division of the state, a few words of explanation may not be inappropriate. The accompanying report shows no increase in the number of schools for the last year, and in fact none since 1879. From this fact, the conclusion might be drawn, that no additional schools were required. The truth is, however, that could the school commissioners have granted the very urgent demands made upon them for new school-houses and new school districts, Garrett county would, at this time, have at least one hundred schools. It might be asked why the necessity of so many school districts in a county of only 12,172 population. More fully and clearly to explain this, let a comparison be made as between Caroline, Calvert and Garrett counties. I take Caroline and Calvert as approximating in their population to that of Garrett:

Caroline—Population	White	9,600	Total, 13,766
	Colored	4,196
" " School Age, according to Census of 1880			4,531
" Number of Schools in 1882			65
" " " Teachers in 1882			74
" Area in Square Miles			300
Calvert — Population	White	4,842	Total, 10,538
	Colored	5,666
" " School Age, according to Census of 1880			3,776
" Number of Schools in 1882			36
" " " Teachers in 1882			37
" Area in Square Miles			240
Garrett — Population	White	12,063	Total, 12,175
	Colored	112
" " School Age, according to Census of 1880			4,282
" Number of Schools in 1882			85
" " " Teachers in 1882			93
" Area in Square Miles			670

It will be seen from above figures that Caroline accommodates her 4,531 children, with sixty-five schools, presided over by seventy-four teachers, and Calvert, 3,776 children, with thirty-six schools, conducted by thirty-seven teachers, while Garrett, for her 4,282 children, requires eighty-five schools and the services of ninety-three teachers. It is evident that the population in proportion to the area of territory fully accounts for these figures, as may be inferred by going into the details of school enrollment as per reports of September 30, 1882. From these reports we find Garrett has thirty of her school districts with less than thirty pupils each on the enrollment of different pupils for the year—Caroline and Calvert have respectively two of their school districts only with less than the above number.

Every effort has been made by the board of school commissioners to overcome as far as possible the difficulties in their way, and very often schools have been abandoned at one point to be located at some other within the same large school district, with a view to placing it within reasonable distance of those attending, but nothing can fully meet the demands upon them, except an increase in the number of school districts.

That educational advantages are fully appreciated by the people of this section, we have only to examine the following figures to sustain the statement: Garrett, out of her 4,282 children of school age, shows that 3,364 had availed themselves of the opportunity to attend her public schools during the year closing with the report of September 30, 1882. Caroline, out of her 4,531, shows 3,425 as embracing the opportunity presented, while Calvert, with 3,376 children, gives us only 1,602 as accepting the advantages tendered them. Taking into consideration also the fact that our schools, as a rule, are open only five months in the year, and those include the coldest of the fall, winter and spring; are in the rugged mountainous section of the state, with poor roads, and these little traveled, in the winter season frequently badly drifted by snow, some of the difficulties encountered by the boys and girls of Garrett county in attending school, can be appreciated by those in more favored localities.

What have the people of Garrett done towards educating their children? Have they been willing to encourage the board in its efforts to sustain her many schools? Upon this point there can be no difference of opinion when we take into consideration their resources: In 1882 the county tax was at the rate of $1 11 on the $100, which yielded $41,800 08 for all county purposes. Out of this amount the county commissioners levied $8,500 for public schools. In 1879 the levy for schools was $10,000, and it has never been less than $8,500 since 1877. Proportionate to its means can any county in the state show a better record?

We think enough has been said to satisfy any candid mind that Garrett county occupies a peculiar relation to her sister counties in the matter of public schools, and only by special legislation (as the public school law now is) can she be placed upon an equal footing with the other counties in the state.

The enrollment and average attendance for the year are not what were expected or desired, yet when we consider the serious drawbacks to which our schools were subjected, we congratulate ourselves that they are no worse. At the time when our schools should have been in their vigor and attendance the greatest, we were compelled to close a number of them on account of that dreadful scourge, small pox, which prevailed for a short time to an alarming extent, and this consequently lessened the attendance and made our work in certain localities less effective. We have never entered upon a new year with better prospects than we do this fall. By the generosity of our county commissioners, who have made a liberal appropriation for the public schools, we will be enabled to continue our schools for the full four terms for the first time under the present public school system. Our teachers have a full year's work before them, and are pleased with the appreciation of their labors by the county authorities, and I have no doubt will do effective work.

Our schools are well graded, and it is the purpose of the examiner to keep them so, for it is no longer an open question whether more effective work can be, and is done, in schools which are properly graded, than where this important element is not recognized.

We built during the year three new district houses, and also a commodious building in Belair, which furnishes ample room for the children of the town and vicinity. We have now in course of construction three new buildings, two of which are for white children, to take the place of old dilapidated buildings, and the other for colored children, in order to give better school facilities to the colored race. The spirit shown by the colored people in the building of the last-named house is commendable. In addition to donating the lot they built the foundation walls and subscribed eighty dollars towards the enterprise, seventy dollars of which has been paid into the treasury.

The number of official visits paid by the examiner, while it exceeds the number paid last year, is not yet up to the requirements of the law, the territory over which he has to travel contains about four hundred and eighty square miles; now if he travels over this scope of country twice within ten months, or eight and a-half months as heretofore, he will find that he has not much time for office work, which should be kept up, but notwithstanding the great pressure of office work, I succeeded in visiting every school in the county once and a number of them oftener. The time of the secretary and examiner is devoted entirely to public school matters, and when he fails to make a large number of visits during the year, it can safely be attributed to the want of time.

We are pleased to state that, notwithstanding a reduction of twenty-six hundred dollars in the amount of state school tax received for white schools alone, we have been able to keep our white schools all open the four terms as usual.

The general result of the school year has been satisfactory, though the enrollment and average attendance, owing to the prevalence of contagious diseases, have slightly diminished.

We have built two new houses, rebuilt one and enlarged one during the year.

Our teachers' county association met regularly during each of the four terms, and a very pleasant and successful teachers' institute was held during the first week in July by Professor Smith and Miss Richmond, of the Normal school, and their work is apparent, so far as the examiner has visited this year.

The public schools of this county were in session nine (9) months, wanting six days, the past school year, the board adhering strictly to its policy of running them on a cash basis, paying promptly at the expiration of each term, and closing the year free from debt.

The general outlook from the county is encouraging, the progress for the year quite satisfactory, and the interest of the whole people is on the increase.

It is believed the report herewith submitted will not only compare with but exceed any former statement from the county.

Prince George County.

In making this, the first annual report of the present school board of Prince George county, it is gratifying to be able to state that the board is out of debt. For the year ending June 30, 1883, the schools were kept open nine months with an increased average attendance of more than a hundred pupils. We have built and furnished four new school houses, all of which will be occupied long before this report is printed. While the board has retrenched in all other possible ways it still pays the same liberal salaries to the teachers, and as a result this county can boast of as good a corps of teachers as any in the state, most of them having graduated at the Maryland State Normal school, an institution that is every day becoming more popular with the patrons of our primary schools.

Queen Anne's.

If nothing has been gained we have not been going backwards. Many of the schools have been nearly closed and some of them entirely so on account of epidemic diseases in the neighborhood of the schools, and parents will not send their children to school while they may be subjected to such diseases as small pox, scarlet fever, measles and others. For the first time in our history we have not been able to keep the schools open for four whole terms. We were compelled to close for one month during the summer term. I hope it will not be the case again. We could not do any building during the year, but we have finished several houses that were not quite done in my last report. I hope you will find all my statements correct and easily understood, and as all that is necessary is in the report, it is useless to enlarge here.

I think there is some improvement over last year, though our schools were depleted for a part of the year by the presence of small pox in the county. This, however, was not an unmixed evil, as it effected the vaccination of nearly all of the school-going children in the county. A number of houses have been made more comfortable by repairs, and an excellent grammar school has been completed. Some new districts have been formed, and others are still demanded. Our children seem to increase faster than our finances, though the county commissioners have added a little more to the levy.

St. Mary's County.

Our teachers are, as a body, well qualified for their work, and earnest in the discharge of their duty.

Our schools are popular, and, except for the prevalence of contagious diseases during the present year, well attended. Indeed so great is their popularity that the people are clamorous for more schools, notwithstanding the fact that they have already been needlessly multiplied. The superficial area of St. Mary's is a little over three hundred square miles. Allowing fifteen square miles, or three and seven-eighth miles square to each school district, would give us about twenty-one white schools; and no pupil under this arrangement (the school district being laid off in the form of a square) would have over two miles to walk. Allowing nine schools for the inconvenience occasioned by the tributaries of the Potomac on the one side and the Patuxent on the other, would give us about thirty schools for white children, and this is about as many as the school fund will properly maintain. Nevertheless, the people desire a school on every little eminence—one at every man's door—and what is stranger still, the idea obtains that the school fund will justify this desire. The condition of the white school buildings, furniture, &c., will, I judge, compare favorably with other counties. The number of colored schools, nineteen, is not sufficient for the number of colored children of our county, which is but little short of the white. Besides, they are unequally distributed, and in many instances, badly located. The condition of houses, furniture, &c., is, in almost every case, anything but satisfactory or pleasing.

An examination of my fiscal report discloses the unpleasant fact that the present board, which came into office on the 2d of January last, was forced to issue certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $2,050 98 in settlements with teachers on salaries for the spring term. This expedient was rendered necessary in consequence of an overdraw on the white fund by my predecessor of $2,155 33, and the failure of April installment from the state of $867 72. To meet this indebtedness the board at their meeting in July last determined not to open the schools until the 15th of October, and to apply the amount available thereby to the colored schools to their repair and refurnishing.

It is confidently hoped that this measure will relieve the board of all embarrassment and place the schools of our county upon a cash basis.

Talbot County.

The enrollent and average attendance in our schools were seriously affected by small pox, and an effort to rigidly enforce the law in regard to vaccination. Indeed, the first case of small pox in our county was in the family of the janitor of the Easton High School. The janitor lives in the basement of the school building, and here, immediately under the school rooms, there was small pox for nearly or quite two weeks before it was suspected, and the sick were removed. It is surprising that, though about a hundred pupils were so long exposed to the contagion, only three or four took the disease; and these had only varioloid in a very mild form. During the winter small pox made its appearance at different points in the county; several deaths occurred, and at these points the excitement stampeded the schools.

From my examination of the schools during the year, I am happy to give my testimony to their general excellence, but there is still room for improvement. I should be glad to see in our schools more of teaching and less of the mere hearing of recitations, especially in the primary grades.

We have had no full reports from our schools with reference to drawing. This branch is entitled to far more attention than is now given to it, not as an ornamental branch, but as a most excellent discipline both to the eye and the hand, essential to the effective culture of taste and the perceptive faculties, and of practical advantage, not only at the time of study, but through the whole of maturer life. All of us would be better workmen if we knew how to handle a pencil. Drawing is in itself a language; and the teacher who possesses this gift has an addition of power which never fails to make itself felt in the school-room.

More than four thousand dollars was expended by the school board during the year in building and furnishing schol-houses. This amount was almost equally divided between the white and the colored schools. After much study and many efforts we have settled some important points in building school-houses, such as size, arrangements, proportion, seating, heating and ventilating; and we think in these respects the new school houses in our county will compare favorably with the best in the state.

Washington County.

We have nothing of special importance to note in the history of our schools for the past year, the work, so far as the examiner has been able to judge, being fully up to our usual standard. The board having had some indebtedness resting upon them for several years past, are making every effort to discharge that indebtedness, and are limiting the expenditures for the ordinary expenses of the schools to the lowest possible figure.

In consequence of the great and unexpected falling off in the revenues usually derived from the state treasury, amounting to $5,422.61 for Washington county, the board has not expected progress in the liquidation of the debt. It has been reduced, however, during the last fiscal year to the extent of $2,353.76, and had the state revenues been up to the figures of the previous year, our net indebtedness would have been merely nominal.

Our total enrollment and average attendance are somewhat smaller than for last year, but the apparent retrogression is due to the unusually widespread prevalence of measles in this country last year.

The attendance as reported for the current fall term is unusually large, and the board has been compelled to employ a number of additional teachers.

Wicomico County.

In the "Salisbury Advertiser" of September 1st, 1883, will be found an article entitled "a letter from the school board to the people of the county." In it will be found all the facts concerning school matters of special interest to our people. All of our white schools and all of the colored, with one or two exceptions, were open all the school year (seven and a half months). One great drawback in our work is our continually changing teachers, resulting from the small compensation paid them. Our board was somewhat embarrassed last March financially, on account of the comptroller apportioning only about 60 per cent. of the regular quarterly dues to white schools. It is a noticeable fact that the remaining 40 per cent. is still undistributed. This we think calls for special attention on the part of school officers. We shall make an effort hereafter to hold a county association at the end of each term.

Worcester County.

The statistical part of this report will show, I think, that the public schools of Worcester county have held their own during the past school year. So far as the white schools are concerned, the enrollment has been as large and the attendance as good as during preceding years.

All expenses have been promptly paid in cash, without borrowing money, and there remains a balance in the treasury at the end of the year. The board has also built and paid for four new school-houses and furniture in place of old houses, which had become dilapidated or were too small to accommodate the increased demands of the population.

The board has unfortunately been compelled to close three of the colored schools because of insufficiency of revenue from the state. Double the amount of money now received could with great advantage be expended for colored schools in this county.
